

RINEHART GOES UP FOR 15 YEARS

Pennsylvania Bank Cashier Is Found Guilty on All Counts of Indictment.

TAKEN TO PENITENTIARY

KENTUCKY BANK PRESIDENT DRAWS THREE-YEAR TERM.

Pittsburg, Jan. 15.—J. B. F. Rinehart, former cashier and vice president of the Farmers & Drovers' National bank of Waynesburg, Pa., which institution failed over two years ago for $2,000,000, was found guilty at noon today of wrecking the bank and was immediately sentenced to serve fifteen years in the penitentiary by United States Judge James S. Young.

Called Up for Sentence.

Rinehart was not present when the verdict was read, but entered a few minutes later. Judge Young then caused a sensation among all concerned by immediately calling Rinehart before him and imposing sentence.

Tears trickled down the cheeks of the dazed banker, and among the largest audience ever seen in the United States court here there was a deathlike silence.

Later the jurors conferred with the United States district attorney concerning an alleged attempt to bribe one of their number.

On the first indictment Rinehart was sentenced to serve ten years, and was given five years on the second indictment.

Alleged Bribers Held.

What developed at the meeting between the district attorney and jurors is not known, but a short time later George W. Worley, a brother-in-law of Rinehart, and James L. Smith, who were arrested last night, charged with attempting to corrupt the jury, were held in $2,500 bail each by United States Commissioner Lindsey. Both men furnished bail.

Rinehart was taken to the penitentiary at 1:30 this afternoon.

The jury was dismissed, after each juror had been closely questioned as to whether any attempt had been made to influence him in rendering a verdict.

Banker Gets Three Years.

Owensboro, Ky., Jan. 15.—T. S. Anderson, former president of the defunct Davies County Bank & Trust company, was found guilty of swearing falsely to a statement of the bank's condition, and was sentenced to three years in the penitentiary.

ROBERTS BILLS ARE ENDORSED BY CONVENTION

As the morning session had been, it began with the reading by Mr. Roberts of the title of the second measure, which was an act to establish a standard system of road building. Some one asked that the bill be read in full and another objected. Delegate Hewlett was in favor of knowing all that each measure contained. Mr. Roberts remarked:

"I can read these measures section by section if you want to, but if I do it is going to take up a lot of time. If you fellows want to stay here until some time next week it is optional with you. I tried to fully explain these measures this morning." He received the sympathy of a number of delegates, and the chair took a hand in the matter. Chairman Derr remarked that the measures had been fully explained, and that it was now up to the convention to endorse or reject the bills as they were announced.

"I'd rather stay here ten days or two weeks than make any mistakes regarding these measures," shouted one delegate.

"You bet!" shouted another. Let's stick till we all get all out."

Another delegate succeeded in quieting the clamor by suggesting that, after reading the title of each bill, Mr. Roberts be requested to give, in a few words, the synopsis of each measure, so that the convention might vote intelligently. This request was made by the chair without any motion, and there were no objections.

Mr. Roberts explained that the bill in hand provided for uniform dimensions for county roads, stating where sidewalks might be placed, where hitching posts might be placed, "It is to prevent highway commissioners tearing up a man's sidewalk and trees and other things indiscriminately," he said.

"It is to prevent highway commissioners tearing up a man's sidewalk and trees and other things indiscriminately," he said.

THE SALT LAKE HERALD: SATURDAY, JANUARY 16, 1909

recon we farmers hadn't ought to," announced a delegate in the center of the room. "I move we approve of the bill as it stands." And it was approved unanimously.

Employing Convict Labor.

The next measure, providing for the employment of convict labor on the highways and regular compensation therefor, caused some little discussion.

Several being of the opinion that allowing convicts $2 per diem would meet with opposition to the measure by labor organizations. The measure provided for the sum stated, the convicts to be charged for their expenses of meals and clothing during the time they worked, and that the balance in their favor, if any at the time they were discharged from the jail or state prison, be given them in cash—by the state, if from a state prison, and by the county, if from a county jail. It provided that no convict whose term was for ten years or over should be allowed to work on the highways. All the state prison convicts employed should be at all times under the control of the state prison board.

The remuneration discussion finally resulted in an amendment being offered by Mr. Hewlett making the sum $1.50 per day instead of $2 per diem.

The amendment was finally carried, and the bill, as amended, was adopted.

The next bill provides for wide tires on vehicles and under the classification of maintenance measures. It provides that no vehicle having a tire less than four inches wide should be allowed on the roads after Jan. 15. Several of the farmers opposing these wide tires on their vehicles, before that time should be exempt from road, toll tax. Several thought the time should be extended to ten years, but the bill was finally approved as drafted.

Penalty for Damage.

The greatest amount of oratory during the afternoon session was expended over the next measure offered for discussion, providing penalty for the destruction of injury to state or county roads by means of water from irrigation.

Mr. Jensen of Sanpete county opened the discussion by vigorously objecting to making the destruction of roads a felony and three or four others in rapid succession denounced the proposed bill in strong terms. Then Mr. Roberts gave an opportunity to correct the wrong impression they had that the destruction of property was a felony according to the proposed measure. The officers who neglected to prosecute were listed as felons.

The man who destroyed or injured the property was guilty of a misdemeanor, as under the old law, but the punishment on conviction was made stronger. That the law was made stronger, but they again got busy with objection when some one proposed that the word "willful" should be inserted. They claimed some farmers' neighbors who let their water into the roads. The farmer should not be punished for flooding high-ways when the irrigation was the fault of him through no fault of his own.

There were many supporters of that opinion. Under the provisions of the proposed statute an irrigation ditch owner responsible for damages to the road incident to seepage also.

Bill is Emancipated.

Delegate Smoot of Provo declared that the "highways are no more sacred than the rights of citizens," and he sarcastically condemned a measure that might make farmers "responsible for injuries that they could not possibly help."

He was in sympathy with giving officials who failed in their duties, any kind of punishment that could be lawfully inflicted. An amendment was offered to substitute "misdemeanor" for "felony."

Another amendment was offered to omit the word "willful," but this was withdrawn. Jensen's amendment was voted upon and was carried. Mr. Roberts announced:

"The carrying of your amendment, gentlemen, virtually kills this measure, for it makes the bill practically the same as the law you now have. There is no further use for this bill, and it might as well be buried. The measure was proposed by me is now just the same as killed. There is no use asking the legislature to make a law that is already on the statute books."
